

I want it to be known that I fully support the use of “Do Not Call Lists”. Prior to signing up for both the Indiana and National Do Not Call Lists we received anywhere from 2 to 5 phone calls soliciting something. These call seemed to be concentrated around mealtimes – one of the few times available for our family to spend time together. The most disturbing part was that no matter how many times we asked to be removed we seemed to continue to get calls. In order to be removed we were sometimes told that we needed to call another number, which always seemed to be an endless circle of automated menus. Let me make this clear I DO NOT WANT TO BE SOLICITED OVER THE PHONE. If I want to order something I have plenty of catalogs and Internet access! I do not want to order credit cards, insurance, fishing lures or make donations over the phone.

Please allow the existence and use of Do Not Call lists to continue
